Heavy flooding has hit Nadi and surrounding areas in the western region of Fiji which is expected to worsen in the next few days as a cyclone passes through.

The city centre of Nadi is currently experiencing levels of flooding higher than occurred in January 2009 and the situation is expected to worsen as the cyclone passes over with more severe damage as a result.

Ominously, a Claims Manager in Fiji has advised "it's still raining!".

Crawford has responded by mobilising adjusters from within Global Technical Services reinforced by our Financial & Forensic Accounting team to assist on claims involving financial loss.

At present there is difficulty in gaining access to the affected areas as the international airport of Nadi has been closed.

Crawford remains on standby and is available to be contacted 24/7 if you have any losses that will require our attention.

Should you require any further up-to-date information please feel free to call.

We will continue to monitor the situation and introduce resources as required to supplement our response.
