Crawford & Company UK: employees pass skills milestone

London – Crawford & Company UK has announced the completion of professional certifications by 47 of its employees.

The announcement comes on the heels of the business' continued expansion and development of its training programme.

Forty-seven Crawford employees have passed the next stage in their qualification ladder, with 19 completing their claims industry benchmark Cert CILA syllabus, 23 individuals passing their Certificate in Insurance (Cert CII) and five more awarded the Diploma in Insurance (Dip CII).

Greg Gladwell, CEO Crawford UK & Ireland said: "I'm delighted to be able to make this announcement as I believe it demonstrates this business' commitment to maintaining technical excellence. Many of these individuals are beginning their journey within the insurance and claims marketplace and it bodes well for our industry that so many have reached this milestone."

"It's doubly pleasing as Crawford has increased its training investment by 20% this year, and we are enhancing recruitment and training programmes to ensure that this exceptional result is not a one-off success. This year, we will build more technical expertise with a new technical support team to assist our adjusters, while teams such as our fire specialists will receive a new bespoke training package."

The news follows a busy period of recruitment at Crawford. “We recently announced 21 new starters within our GTS® division, with appointees across Aviation, Corporate and Major Incidents, International Construction and Engineering and Marine. These are exciting times to be part of a growing business, which supports its employees throughout their careers.”
