Crawford® Names Bonnie Sawdey Chief People Officer

ATLANTA (Feb. 15, 2016) – Crawford & Company® (NYSE: CRDA; CRDB), the world’s largest independent provider of claims management solutions, has named Bonnie C. Sawdey senior vice president and chief people officer. She is responsible for all aspects of corporate human resources, including talent acquisition, talent management, employee relations, corporate training, benefits and compensation design, and administration.

“After rising through the ranks and serving Crawford for 26 years, Bonnie is well-positioned to hold this important role,” said Harsha V. Agadi, Crawford interim president and CEO.

Sawdey is a member of the Global Executive Management team and reports to Agadi. She additionally reports to Danielle Lisenbey, executive vice president and Broadspire® CEO, serving as Broadspire’s senior human resources executive.

Sawdey joined the company in 1989 and has held numerous positions, mostly in the Human Resources department, and in 2014 was named vice president of Human Resources.

She was named Benefit Manager of the Year in 2015 by Business Insurance magazine.

Sawdey earned a bachelor’s degree in Business Administration with a concentration in human resources from Georgia State University.
